

OUTBACK ROUNDUP 2015

THE WINNERS

The photographers came from 19 states and offered close to 400 photos for judgment. The judges were award-winning photographers and artists Marilyn Newton, Linda Dufurrena and RANGE art director John Bardwell. They admit their choices were difficult.

Here are the top eight. Merit award winners will appear in the Fall 2015 and Winter 2016 issues. And entry blanks for the 2016 Outback Roundup will be available in our Fall and Winter issues and at www.rangemagazine.com in August.

Next year could be your turn. ■

Best of Show, $215
"Tucked for Warmth"
Arctic fox.
Mark Hayward, Spring Creek, Nevada

*1st Place, $175
"Reflecting on Life"
Ken Clark lost in thought.
Skye Clark, Smoot, Wyoming*

*2nd Place, $150
"Looking Over the Ewes"
McKayla Mahoney at Big Creek
in Austin, Nevada.
Ryan Mahoney, Rio Vista, California*

5th Place, $80
"Angelic Barn Owl"
Sheltered by an abandoned
farm building.
Lynn Starnes, Sparks, Nevada

4th Place, $100
"Flowers for Mom"
Six-year-old Luke Dixon's wild bouquet.
Kayla Dixon, Ismay, Montana

3rd Place, $125
"Camo"
Spur, a border
collie/blue heeler blends
in with the snow.
Caitlyn McCollum,
Gillette, Wyoming

*7th Place, $60
“Packing in to Gilman Lake”
James Reeves,
with Green Lake Canyon in background.
Kent Reeves,
Sacramento, California*

*6th Place, $70
“Journey to Heart Mountain”
Corgi Daisy blazes a trail in fresh snow.
Suzi Sellers, Clark, Wyoming*